Talkshow boy's "ice police" remixes

Pocketclock ©

Talkshow boy & friends
The Ice Police rmxz cls001r

Talkshow Boy's single 'Ice Police', remixed in nine thoroughly different ways by the finest not-very-famous bedroom pop maestros from around the world.

1. POMPEY'S I AM AN OVERZEALOUS PRIVATE EYE RMX
2. SCHIZOID'S ICE CREAM HEADACHE RMX
3. GLTCH BTCH'S LOVE MIX
4. PROBOSCIS LOUNGE'S MIX
5. BLACKBAUBLE'S A LITTLE FRIGID MIX
6. SIENMILKI'S 8 BIT REMIX
7. VINYLVANDAL'S MIX
8. WAFFLES' GLACIAL SKIDDER MIX
9. GOOSEDAEMON'S MIX

Adrian K-Sahara's original track was in parts a party jam, tender pop song, dissonant hip-hop chant and charlston inciter, propulsed by whimsical and sometimes contradictory lyrics. We asked on the pocketclock website for any interested parties to have a go at remixing the track, emphasizing our fondness for the most anthetical of re-interpretations. The submissions were by and large wonderfully odd, every one concocted in the bedrooms of impish young upstarts. Every remix chosen for the final compilation shows a idiosyncratic and confident attack on the original track, be it Proboscis Lounge's burroughs-cotton-mouth-cut-up by way of cute-spastic-glitch, Waffles' psychedelic spinning/slipping pop, Schizoid's unrelenting gabba violence, or Vinylvandals' free-noise storm (we are still not sure whether he was taking the piss!). Elsewhere Blackbauble's no-fi girl-boy duet steams, Sienmilki's stilted robot pop games, and Pompey's chamber-drawling hides in the cupboard. Goosedaemon's dubby droning (with beats created from the sound of Adrian's voice) finishes proceedings by catching it's own breath. We had no idea the track was so rubbery in the first place, and the final compilation both excavates and blocks the original intent of the song (available in CDsingle form as cat# cls001).

This is a record less for those who love pressing 'repeat', but rather 'random', on their ipods or discmen.

The compilation is for free download in mp3 format on the pocketclock website and as a promotional cd-r only.

http://www.pocketclock.org/iprmx.php